Dear Roland:

Thank you very much for the hospitality and arrangements connected with the annual meeting. It was a pleasure to see you again and to renew acquaintances at the BBC.

I especially appreciated the nice luncheon in the Function Room and Godfrey Offord's luncheon at the Grouse and Claret. These affairs provided an excellent opportunity to exchange thoughts with your key people.

I'll drop a note to David Witherow to thank him for the evening in London which was most enjoyable.

Good luck with your plans and I hope you will be joining us here in Washington at next year's meeting. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Sincerely,

John D. Chandlee
